PREFACE

This was a branch of the clan provided by Adrian Stanley, see Warrington (John), but it proved to have a different origin in Warrington. The family moved to Chorley before spreading elsewhere, especially Bolton.

It was later linked to the Warrington Family of Alan Phenix who is descended from John and Betty nee Birchall, who had 11 children between 1788 and 1813, including Alan's ancestor James, and John who moved to Chorley.

The choice of this marriage for the parents of the children baptised at Warrington as the children of John and Betty is based on the elimination of all other local Jon and Betty marriages, and the single baptism at Great Sankey further suggests a link between the marriage and the subsequent children.
